End of term-
Friday 16th July

What another busy week! Oak and Ash class went to Cotswold Wildlife Park and I was lucky enough to be able to go with them this year. I was super impressed with their behaviour and how enthusiastic they were. For the Reception children this was their first ever school trip!

The production for Birch is taking shape and they started practising with the staging outside. It is a very different way to perform and I can't wait to see it on Tuesday 13th July. Attached with this newsletter is a letter explaining about the tickets for those who would like to attend this year. We ask that those whose child is in Birch class order tickets first. If there are any left after 3pm on Wednesday 7th, we will open it up for other families in the school.

Today we had a special visitor who was actually an ex-pupil of the school to meet Ash and Oak class-her name is Alina Everatt. She came into talk to the children and read the story she illustrated called 'Li Miss Bee and the Honey Rocket'.

Next Wednesday is our Shuffle Up Day and I gave more details last week with how we have organised it this year. You will find this again later on in the newsletter for your information. Everyone should now know which class they will be in for September. Nearly all of the Year 6s have been able to have some transition for their secondary school and will be getting ready for their leavers assembly during that day.

Next Friday is our Mini Mud Run and Ms England spoke to the children about what is going to happen and what to bring in during our Achievers Assembly. We sent home all the details of the event on Monday. Each child should have also received a sponsorship form and the money raised will go towards developing our Forest School project.

Thank you to those who filled in our parent survey this year and for many positive comments made about the last academic year. We will now analyse the results and take your comments on board as we look to next year and hopefully some more normality. We have really missed having parents into school and we can't wait to be able to see some of you for our outside events following the current covid-19 guidelines. Have a nice weekend!

IMPORTANT- ALLERGIES-

We have a no nut policy in school and this now includes sesame seeds and Nutella.

Thank you for your support

Questions, Worries or Concerns

Please don't hesitate to contact us if you have any questions on anything we are doing in school, or you have a particular worry or concern. The first point of contact is your child's class teacher and then Mr Smith. It has been very different this year without parents and even though we have needed to do things more virtually, our door is always open to discuss and support you and your family through this strange time. For more details on contacting us with concerns, please see our complaints policy on our website.

This Week's Achievers...

Oak	Wilbur	For persevering with his writing, even when he was tired and it got tough!
	Benjy	For getting on with his independent writing without any distractions. He was really proud of himself and I was too!
	Sienna	For playing with lots of different children and always offering a smile.
	Luke	For being such a happy, funny and friendly child who has really come out of his shell.
Ash	Charlotte	For being a fantastic role model and being ready to learn at all times.
	Aela	For her concentration and tenacity working on fractions.
	Ashlyn	For her outstanding behaviour and team work on our school trip.
	Owen	For thinking carefully about fractions and asking questions to help him understand them fully.
Elm	George N	For showing kindness to others and helping your partner in guided reading this week .
	Thomas E	For using a growth mind-set in times tables, you are getting better each week Thomas, keep it up!
	George D	For asking for extra help on fractions and then applying what you had learnt in class.
	Harrison	For putting your hand up and contributing answers in maths this week.
Birch	Lola	For her growing confidence in class and contributions in group activities.
	Louis	For learning and performing his lines so well in our production.
	Harry	For his commitment and desire to achieve his best, always keen to challenge himself in his learning.
	Joshua	For being such a positive and valuable member of the class- a great friend to others and an excellent role model.
