

NEWBOTTLE & CHARLTON CEVA Pupil premium Strategy

<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/what-maintained-schools-must-publish-online#pupil-premium>

School must publish a strategy for the school's use of the pupil premium. You no longer have to publish a 'pupil premium statement'.

For the current academic year, you must include:

- your school's pupil premium grant allocation amount
- a summary of the main barriers to educational achievement faced by eligible pupils at the school
- how you'll spend the pupil premium to overcome those barriers and the reasons for that approach
- how you'll measure the effect of the pupil premium
- the date of the next review of the school's pupil premium strategy

For the previous academic year, you must include:

- how you spent the pupil premium allocation
- the effect of the expenditure on eligible and other pupils

Pupil premium funding is allocated for each financial year, but the information you publish online should refer to the academic year, as this is how parents understand the school system.

As schools won't know allocations for the end of the academic year (April to July), report on the funding up to the end of the financial year and update it when you have all the figures.

2017-2018

- Summary of the main barriers to educational achievement faced by eligible pupils at Newbottle & Charlton

With only 5 children it can become quite specific to individuals. However, for 2 children there is a small concern around attendance although this legitimately is due to illness.

In addition, whilst these children are reaching an expected attainment level across the board they need to reach a greater depth in order to achieve progress measures, most notably in maths. In addition, these children are not always able to access additional opportunities e.g. playing musical instruments, residential etc. Opportunities for children to deal with emotional issues and social situation is also to be developed by some.

- How Newbottle and Charlton will measure the effect of the pupil premium

Data at three points in the year will be tracked and identify if children are working well towards achieving their own targets.

Results at the end of the year will show the effect of PP spending.

Talk to children, to ensure that provision is as they would like to see.

In addition children are happy safe and their well-being is key to the success of achievement and engagement at school.

- The date of the next review of Newbottle and Charlton 's pupil premium strategy - This will be looked at regularly throughout the year but formally in JULY 2018
